Note:

1. Raw materials must be wholly obtained in Hong Kong. Component parts must be of Hong Kong origin according to the applicable Hong Kong origin rules. If no relevant Hong Kong origin rules are available, the component parts must be the product having undergone processing and manufacturing operations in Hong Kong, which result in a change in the 4-digit HS heading from that of the basic materials used to produce the component parts.
2. Labour costs refer to wages related directly to the production of the goods. Costs such as employee transport and management wages may not be included in the Hong Kong value-added content.
3. Product development carried out in Hong Kong for the purposes of producing or processing the goods. Development expenses should be related to the exporting goods and include:
 - (i) fees payable for the development of designs, patents, patented technologies, trademarks or copyrights (referred to as "rights" collectively) carried out by the manufacturer himself,
 - (ii) fees payable to a natural or legal person in Hong Kong for undertaking development of those rights, and
 - (iii) fees payable for purchasing those rights owned by a natural or legal person in Hong Kong.

Please state the type of product development costs involved (designs, patents, patented technologies, trademarks or copyrights) and provide information for each type of cost.

4. Please also specify the name of the third party in this column. The third party must be a legal person or a natural person in Hong Kong, who has already made and submitted a Declaration and Undertaking (Form FRD2) to the Trade and Industry Department under the Factory Registration of the factory named in this Cost Statement.
5. Please state the accounting method (e.g. straight line, diminishing balance or unit of products) used for allocating the factory's product development costs to the goods covered in this Cost Statement.
6. FOB value as declared on the CO(CEPA). FOB value refers to the cost of the goods to the Mainland buyer abroad up to and including the loading of the goods on to the exporting vessel, vehicle or aircraft.
7. The person signing for and on behalf of the factory must be an authorized signatory under Factory Registration.
